THREE RACES FOR LORILLARD

NUMERAL, THE LADY ROHESIA AND CYUTTICA WIN FOR HIM.

E. D. Morgan's Contusion Triumphs—Petra II., a 100 to 1 Shot, in Front-Jockey O'Nell Rides Four Winners-Three Favorites Successful at Aqueduct.

There were many sensational features of the racing at Aqueduct yesterday afternoon which were enjoyed by a crowd that num-bered nearly 9,000 persons. Pierre Loril-lard's colors were carried to victory three times. Jockey O'Neil, the Western light-weight, rode four winners. Peter II. lard's colors were carried to victory three times. Jockey O'Neil, the Western lightweight, rode four winners. Petra II., a 100 to 1 shot, carried off the first race, while the colors of E. D. Morgan, a member of the State Racing Commission, were triumphantly landed in front in the last race by his three-year-old filly Contusion, by Henry of Navarre—Arnica. Three winning favorites enabled the talent to break about even on the day. The track was fast, and a new record for four and a haif furlongs, 0.54 4-5, was established in the second event by Mr. Lorillard's two-year-old filly The Lady Rohesia, by Ingoldsby—The Governess.

The stake feature was the Peconic, a selling event for three-year-olds, at seven furlongs.

event for three-year-olds, at seven furiongs. Nevermore, owned by W. B. Leeds, the Rock Island Railroad magnate, who was present for the first time, was an odds-on favorite at for the first time, was an odds-on favorite at 2 to 5. A. C. McCafferty's Right and True, a 15 to 1 shot, showed the way to the turn, where Nevermore took the lead. Coming into the stretch, however, the favorite swing so wide that little McCafferty was able to go to the front again, and Right and True, under the whip, won by half a length, with the favorite a length before Embarrassment. The time was 129 2-5.

The time was 1:39 2-5.

The time was 1292-5.

Ethics was regarded as a lead pipe for the handicap at a mile and seventy yards, while Lord Badge was heavily played for the place. The race proved as harvest for the bookmakers, for neither Ethics nor Lord Badge finished in the money. Mr. Lorillard's Numeral, a 10 to 1 shot, who got away poorly, ran over his field in the stretch, and won in a hard drive by a half a length from Circus, Redfern up. The time was 1:46.

The Lady Rohesia won the second event for two-year-old filies at four and a half furlongs. The finish was the closest of the day, Mr. Lorillard's filly just nosing out hamburg Belle in 0:34 4-5, which reduced Modrias strack record one-fifth of a second. Mr. Lorillard's third triumph of the day occurred in the fifth race, a selling event for two-year-olds at four and a half furlongs, when Cyuttica, an odds-on favorite, made all the running and passed the judges two lengths before R. W. Walden's Miss Nancy.

There was a hot tip on Mr. Morgan's filly Contusion to win the last race, for maidens at seven furlongs. She opened at 5 to 1, but the money came into the ring so fast that the figures dropped to 8 to 5 in a few moments. There were fifteen starters, but O'Neil got Contusion away quickly, and after that the result was never in doubt, Contusion galloping home by eight lengths before Labor.

Petra II.'s victory in the opening event, for platers at six furlongs, made the wise men hot under the collar. The mare's races last year, especially the one in the Carter Handicap, and her class warranted better support than she received, her price going up from 50 to 100 to 1. There was a tremendous plunge by all the big bettors on Remorse, who burned up the coin as soon as the barrier was raised by propping himself and then running along in the dusty ruck. Ivernia was taken out in front by Redfern, who kept her there, followed by Petra II. down and the Pontiac mare showed a brilliant burst of speed, winning in a drive by three parts of a length from Ivernia, who was a length and a half b

W. C. Whitney Pays His Pirst Visit to the

William C. Whitney paid his first visit of the season to the races at Aqueduct yesterday. He was accompanied by his son, Harry Payne Whitney, and with Sydney Paget looked the horses over in the paddock with much interest. Mr. Whitney said that his horses had, wintered splendidly at Aiken, S. C., and were all in splendid condition at their quarters at Sheepshead Bay. Mr. Whitney also said that he had made many improvements at his stable at Westbury, L. I., and that he might winter some of his horses there after the coming campaign, although the bulk of them would go South again. He is enthusiastic over the outlook for the sport this year and says that the racing at Saratoga will eclipse all provious records.

the success of Mr. Lorinard's horses yes-terday was a general triumph for Jockey O'Neil, Trainer Fred Buriew and Newton Bennington, who backed all of O'Neil's mounts and cleaned up heavy winnings on the day. O'Neil has had remarkable success with two-year-olds at the Aqueduct meeting.

bad effect on his equanimity and skill. From the New York opening to the Brooklyn open-ing the pendulum of his provess swung to the other extreme, and where he was a rhine-stone at the Polo Grounds he was a jewel of Washington the first water yesterday at Washington Park. Holding the Brooklyns down to three scattering singles and with smoking speed that added to the effectiveness of his squirm-ing curves, he was more than one-ninth of that added to the effectiveness of his squirming curves, he was more than one-ninth of the opposing whole that squeezed out a tight game from the Brooklyns by a score of 2 to 1.

Brooklyn contributed nobly to the big crowds that have attended all of the opening games of the National League this year—bar Boston, where the American League has the older organization almost in total eclipse. The Brooklyn baseball patrons are usually very fair as pertains to friend and foe, and this was noticeably the case vesterday. The gathering of 16,000 persons was enthusiastic and partisan one way or the other, but the partisanship was generous in its noisiness. It was quick to see that the contending players were keyed up to their very best, and appreciative alike of the snappy play of Mc iraw's men and Hanlon's hopefuls.

This spirit of fair play is one that players who are disposed to question decisions would do well to adopt, if they are quick witted enough to read as they run; and the spectator who sympathizes with the kicker could take a leaf out of the same book. The opening in Brooklyn as well as the one in New York was marked by clean ball; and, moreover, the ginger that went with it was a convincing argument to all except the "none so blind as those who will not see" ones that kicking is not necessary to add zest to the play.

The artistic mind of President Ebbets

The artistic mind of President Ebbets planned a pretty opening ceremony. Half an hour before the game began the two teams, regulars and retainers, filed into view from the distant clubrouse, lined up abreast after passing through the gate and, chaperoned by a busy band, wang over toward the centre of the state of th on the bound; yet every this nappened the runner was nalled, the ball bounding into the recipient's hands in easy position for the out.

After the second inning Brooklyn's chances for scoring were next to nil. Not a man got past second base after the second inning. From the third inning to the seventh there was not a hit by the Brooklyns, and Mathewson was getting better as the afternoon waned. Flood singled in the seventh with one out, but his two helpers could not hit the ball beyond the infield. A pretty stop by Lauder was made in the seventh inning on Schmidt's ugly bounding grounder.

As the New Yorks were doing the more hitting and taking more liberties with Schmidt's ugly bounding grounder.

As the New Yorks were doing the more hitting and taking more liberties with Schmidt's delivery as the game progressed, it was no surprise that they finally got another man around. MoGann began New York's half of the ninth with a single to centre. Next inside work put him on second base. The New Yorks worked the sacrifice hit plan all afternoon with much better results in advancing the runner than any scheme tried by the Brooklyns. Bresnahan put MoGann on second with a well placed sacrifice, and when Babb hit to Flood and was thrown out at first McGann went to third.

Lauder looked so business-like when he came to the bat that Schmidt gave him no chance at the leather, but sent him along on four balls and, as he thought, out of harm's way, figuring on having an easier time with Gilbert, who was the next butter. That is where Schmidt's plans slipped a cog. He was unable to get the ball over the plate for Gilbert. This brought another dangerous hitter. Warner, to the plate. The pinch did not find Warner wantins. He cracked a grounder leated to score on the hit, but Sheckard's throw-in stopped him at the plate. Three

ANNUAL POLO MEETING. Early Dates Fixed and Visit of English Team Announced.

There were applications for tournaments from every one of the twenty-nine clubs in membership at the annual meeting of the Polo Association, held last night at the Metro-politan Club, and as only eighteen were held last year and the playing time is limited, there is bound to be some confusion in dates. In order to fix the dates with as few conflicts as possible, the entire matter, with the ex-ception of three tournaments, was left over to another meeting to be held on May 11.

The present officers will hold over until then.

The tournament dates assigned were, to the Lakewood Polo Club, Aug. 28 to May 5; the Country Club of Westchester, May 18 to 27, and the open event of the Squadron A Polo Club, to be played at Van Cortlandt Fark, on May 11 to 18. Squadron A and the Philadelphia Country Club were applicants for the championship, the choice and date to be settled at the special meeting. Should the event be played at Van Cortlandt, it is thought that it will attract the crowd of 30,000 to 40,000 onlookers that the tournament drew to Prospect Park during the years it was played there.

Many important changes were discussed in the rules and the debating prolonged the mee ing to midnight. A cab'e received yesterday from the secretary, W. A. Hazard, who has been abroad since the international matches last spring at Hurlingham, was read as follows: "English team ready to commence play Aug. 3 for three games a week." It is thought that five will come ever with their ponies, the players to include Walter Buckmaster, C. Rawlinson and F. Freake.

A series of special matches will be arranged for them, and the players will also be invited to join in the tournament circuit, which at that time will have reached Newport and Narragansett. Fig. The players will be handloapped by the players who know their game from participating with them in the matches at Hurlingham.

COLUMBIA STUDENTS PROTEST

Managers in Exclusive Control of Teams. After winning a first victory over the athletic council which recently attempted to withhold the award of appropriate athletic insignia from the minor sports, the students at Columbia are up in arms again against recommendation that in the future the election of athletic managers shall be taken from the undergraduates and left to the different teams. At a conference of athletic captains and various students it was decided that the Yvarsity "C" shall not be restricted to the four major sports as suggested, but are to be given to prominent competitors in any branch of sport at the discretion of the ath-

Freshmen were forbidden to wear insignia of any kind and are to wear no other hat on the campus than a plain black Eton cap. White caps are to be worn only by members of 'Varsity teams in the future. The ob-jections raised to the election of managers by the teams themselves were based on the by the teams themselves were based of the fear of close corporation methods which formerly impeded the progress of Columbia sport. Spectator, the undergraduate newspaper, printed a three column editorial yes-paper, printed a three column editorial yesterday against the proposed change. Among other things it says:

"And now, just as the students are getting behind the teams and supporting them with enthusiasm, they are told that they are no longer qualified to select the managers, that hereafter the men who are to e ploy the funds subscribed by the students are to be elected by the teams themselves, that from now on Columbia football is to be played by eleven men and managed by one chosen by that eleven, that Columbia baseball, and the Columbia crew and all the other sports which the student body is growing to feel are representatives of Columbia, are to be managed by close corporations, and that they are no longer to have a part in them. How long, we are tempted to ask, can the student body at large be expected to sympathize with and support activities conducted upon a basis of close communion?"

here to-night that Joe Walcott received $750 for not knocking out Philadelphia Jack O'Brien for not knocking out Philadelphia Jack O'Brien in their bout at the Physical Culture Club last night. Walcott could not be found this evening to answer any questions about the rumor. When he came out of the ring he was saked why he had not knocked his opponent out. His reply was that he would not have received a cent for boxing had he put O'Brien to sleep.

SHAMROCK I. COMING HERE. New Mast on Shamrock III. Will Deprive Her of Time Allowance. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.

SOUTHAMPTON, April 21 .- Sir Thomas Lipton has decided to send both the Shamrock III. and the Shamrock 1. to America. This will permit the latter being used as a trial horse off Sandy Hook, and the chal-lenger will be able to make up the time lost on this side by her recent dismasting. The decision to send the Shamrock I to America was reached after a con-ference between Sir Thomas Lipton, De-signer Fife and Mr. Ward of the firm of Denny Bros., the builders of Shamrock III. It was thought best to complete the tuning up of the challenger in American waters in the conditions under which she would sail for the America's Cup. This will obviously involve considerable ad-would sail for the America's Cup. This will obviously involve considerable additional outlay, not only necessitating the thorough equipment of the old boat for her passage across the Atlantic, but the chartering of a special steamer to accompany her so that each yacht will have its own escort. The gear for the ocean passage of the Shamrock I. has already been ordered.

It is believed that the contemplated trials in Belfast Lough will now be abandoned, and that the remaining programme here will consist of only a few spins on the Clyde after the challenger is refitted for the purpose of stretching her canvas and testing her new gear. Then the boats will start for Sandy Hook, where a series of exhaustive trials will be made. Messrs. Fife and Ward will survey the challenger to-morrow to assure themselves that her hull is not injured. There is not the least reason to suppose that it is. A tug has been chartered to tow the Shamrock III. to the Clyde, and she will start on Friday morning it the weather is favorable.

The steam yacht Erin will escort the Shamrock I.

It is reported from Glasgow that irons will be placed in the new mast to prevent

It is reported from Glasgow that irons will be placed in the new mast to prevent its buckling. This will add to the weight aloft and correspondingly increase the boat's displacement, while the new mast is five feet longer than the original one, increasing the sail area to nearly 16,000 square feet. It is feared that this will remove the hope of the challenger receiving time allowance from the Reliance.
